Mountains of garbage and despair in India's dirtiest city

Autres langues vivantes
FR

Mountains of garbage and despair in India's dirtiest city

Video file
Mountains of garbage and despair in India's dirtiest city

Gonda, 80 miles (125 kilometres) from the Uttar Pradesh state capital of Lucknow, was best known as a quiet stopover point for people travelling to Nepal or to see the region's temples but today after coming Indian government cleanliness survey it's earned itself the unwanted title of India's dirtiest town.

Niveau
Cycle 4
Lycée
Thématique
Langues vivantes
SES