Decolonisation of sub-Saharan Africa

Autres langues vivantes
FR

Decolonisation of sub-Saharan Africa

Decolonisation of sub-Saharan Africa
Young Togolese women attend a parade in Lomé on May 5, 1960 to celebrate the proclamation of the independence of Togo, a former French colony. - AFP

This Agence France-Presse (AFP) package on the decolonisation of sub-Saharan Africa is based on the agency's text, photo, graphics and video archives.

The dossier was compiled by Pascale Juilliard and Janet McEvoy

Niveau

- Cycle 4
- Lycée

Thématique
Histoire-Géographie
HGGSP
Langues vivantes

- 'Scramble for Africa' decided in Berlin
- Decolonisation in dates
- A long road to independence
- Ghana paves the way
- 1958, France allows more autonomy
- Belgian Congo freed in 1960
- Kenya's Mau Mau uprising
- In 1980, Zimbabwe is born
- Mozambique, Angola 40 years later
- 'Fathers' of independence

Book traversal links for Decolonisation of sub-Saharan Africa

- 'Scramble for Africa' decided in Berlin ›